The reckless shock she has more acts or all our in contents of the contents mure, undertook to reply to Judge McKee, the American candidate for Clerk of the Court of Ap-peals at the appoinment which the latter had made in Rust's Senatorial district. At Louisa and Ashalthough it was known that he had business at treenupsburg, which is also in his district, he did not must McKee there. He evidently had enough of his experiment and abandoned the field. The writy of Jadge Mckee to Mr. Rast as a public speaker is so immeasurably great that the latter will hardly hazard his reputation and his own estimation of his oratororical powers by submitting them again to be contrasted with those of the American standard bearer in this contest. GRORDE B. MCKEE. - The progress of the Ameriin candidate for clerk of the Court of Appeals in the fulfillment of his appointments is a triumphal march. Everywhere he is greated with manifestations of popular enthusiasm, and his truthful and fearless expositions of the corruptions of the Demo-cratic party and the dangerous tendency of Demoratic doctrines carry conviction to the hearts of his hearers and attract to his support the mountaineers of Kentucky without distinction of party. Mone New States .- I we names have been any gested for the new State to be erected from parts of Michigan and Northern Wisconsin—Superior and Intonagon. Since Congress has adopted the policy of admitting new States into the Union, without re-gard to population, we should not be surprised to see a dozen of them manufactured in the course of the next twelve months. The Emigration Aid So-cieties in the North, without much trouble, could, at least, batch out monthly. AMERICAN TEA A FAILURE -Those who have made the experiment of raising tea in this country say: The plant will grow well enough, but wages are too high. We cannot afford to pick, roll up, and dry any sort of leaves here for half a dollar a pound. In China, where a man is hired for one dollar a mouth, and boards himself, it may be done.

CUBA.—The Baltimore Clipper says that the rumor still holds, notwithstanding the contradiction that has been given to it by the Washington letter writers, that the President will soon send a measage to Congress, urging either the purchase or conquest of Culsa—and the speech of S. natur Signature. It is the death of Mr. Benton the country loses one of its marked put die characters. He was a man of great force, but that force was of a personal rather and the origin and progress of the fearful epidemic on board will be read with interest:

U. S. Fignatic Susquemanna,
New York, April 15, 1858.)

The arrival of the P. S. steam frigate Susquelanta in the port of New York with the yellow fever on board, which had disabled half of her crew, you have doubtless heard of. I feel certain, however, that a bruef account will be acceptable. Besides, I which to call the attention of the public to the humane coudcet of several moble-hearted English navial officers who were instrumental in saving the lives of many on board this ship.

As the fever broke out on the 30th ult, with renewed violence, it was the ented beat to get under way, and on the night of the last it raged violently, and seme flour onicers and in paralys of forty men were on the sick list. A consultation was then held by the captain, suggeon, and others of the deck, and it was decided to run for l'ensacola, being the nearest hespital in the linted States where the sick could be landed and the ship broken out. The vessel was then headed to the north—fever sill on the increase—and, to make it worse, it was found, on the 3d, that the costs were running short, and there would not be sufficient to carry us to Pensacola. The inselicines ulso were short, lessiles the want of proper neurishment for the sick. These circumstances always the submediated to the north—fever sill on the increase—sand, to make it worse, it was found, on the 3d, that the costs were running short, and there would not be sufficient to carry us to Pensacola. The inselicines ulso were short, lessiles the want of proper neurishment for the sick. These circumstances in the land of the first way to be a submediate to the surface of the house of the short of the surface of the short of the content that would tend to their always use of live days, which terninated in the blinck vomit.

The 1th of April, pour Lieut, Henry W. Queen, of the marine corps, died after an illusse of five days, which terninated in the blinck vomit.

The night of the firs

they even came pravided with cots for the sick mensurely seath condust deserves some suitable acknowledgment from Fongress. Vice Admiral Stewart, by this one act of huminity, has won for himself a reputation that will contribute more to his fame than all the battles he has been engaged in covering a long and buildiant career. Commodore Kellett also comes in fur his share of our thanks and graditude. All half to these noble-hearted linglishmen, who generously risked their lives in saving the crew of this vessel, for they did not besttate to place themselves in contact with the sick when occasion demanded it.

The 6th and 7th were employed in cooling ship, and some twesty more sent to the hospital. The 5th we got under way from Kingston, and anchored abreast of the unval hospital at Fort Boyal; sent fer mean and hieset. Howell there. Heard also that four of our men had died—they were compacted when the sail was infected he was advised to leave the ship. Mr. Howell had a slight attack sent as the ship was infected he was advised to from the Indus Assistant Surgeon Frederick II. Rose, of the Invalid Arvy, as an additional medical officer, he having volunteers to serve in our ship, which had become a pest house. Mr. Rose came by permission of Vice Admiral Stewart; certainly a most praise worthy ast, and over that should not be forgotten by the American people. Surgeon Finckney, in conceasions of the created which were recovered the content of the content of the created with the American people.

Thus one half of our view were taken down, searly one hundred and fifty. Fifteen deaths have hus far occurred. Some forty cases of fever still on overd, of milder form. Nothing hunt coning north saved the survivors, that we gone to Pensacola there is no telling the number of deaths that would have taken place. Every surgeon, ushore and affort, recommended our going north to a cold climate, and the result has troved the windom of that ndvice, for we have lost int one man since leaving Kingston—James Read, a sathunker's mate.
